

'I am working for...' Chart

What is a 'I am working for....' chart?

An 'I am working for...' chart is a visual strategy, a bit like a reward chart.

You or your child chooses a reward e.g. time on their tablet, and then your child must earn x3 tokens in order to receive the reward.

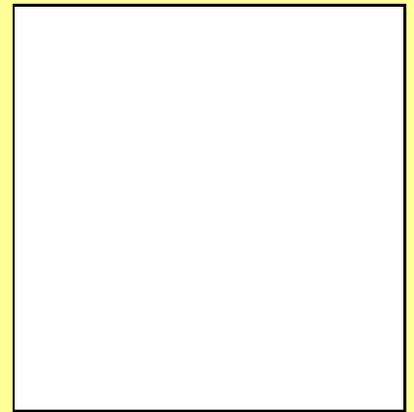

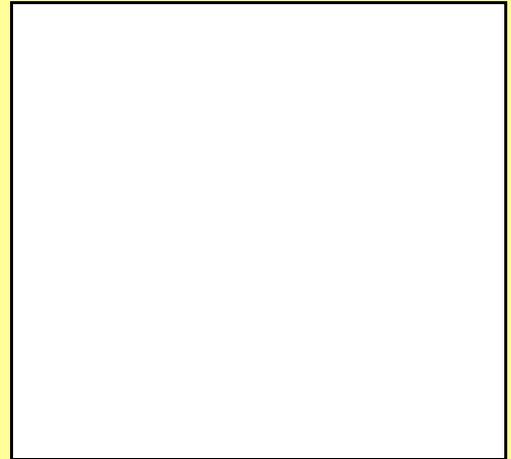

When would you use an 'I am working for...' chart?

- To complete work activities e.g. a star for each page in your workbook
- To get ready in the morning e.g. a star for brushing teeth, getting dressed and making your bed.
- To support waiting e.g. a star for each minute you 'wait' for something (this one can be great to use when out e.g. at the doctors).

Tips/advice

- If you are using a 'Working for...' chart for the first time start with some very quick and easy tasks so your child is able to achieve their 3 tokens easily. Once they get the hang of it you can start to increase the complexity of what you ask them to do.
- If your child does not want to engage with the chart try creating one using something they are interested in. For example you could make spider man tokens for them to collect rather than simple stars. You could get them involved in the making process by colouring it in or adding sticker or glitter.
- We recommend that you laminates the chart and tokens if you can, using Velcro to stick them on. However, if you don't have these then you can stick them on some card to make it stronger and use blue tac.
- Try using a timer to let your child know how long they are allowed the reward activity for (and give them warning before the time comes to an end) if ending motivating activities can be a challenge.

I'm working for

star

star

star

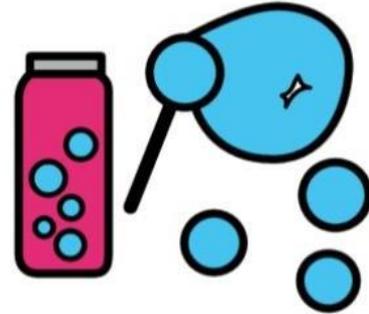

Below are some symbols that you might find useful to use at home

TV

play

bubbles

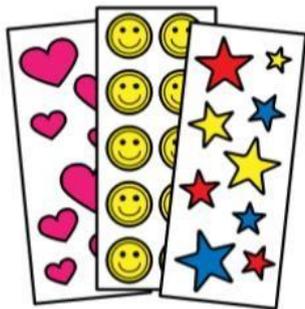

tablet

chocolate

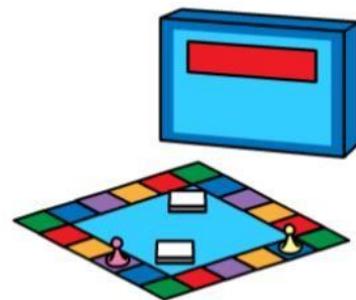

scooter

sticker

ice cream

boardgame

football

free time

special treat

